NISHAD NARGIS
CHAIRMAN

At NAQIB Group, we believe that our businesses must touch people's lives meaningfully. Today, we have evolved as a multidimensional and diversified global business entity with four companies under the NAQIB Group umbrella. There are many ways to measure a company's success. However, a truly successful company is one that finds a way to return some of its rewards to the communities in which it operates. We believe a company cannot consider itself truly successful unless it makes an effort to give back. NAQIB Group strongly believes that as a large organization, we can make a difference in many ways, such as contributing to needy causes, helping protect the environment, and making the society we live in a better place for our stakeholders through various activities and campaigns. It is my hope that we can set an example to other companies by demonstrating that these contributions to society will actually create awareness to save our planet, where we can take great pride. We believe that our companionate actions will make the world a better place for future generations. «We want to change people's lives for the better by providing them opportunities and by creating an environment that drives efficiency and productivity.

Thank you for showing your interest in Naqib Group. Since its inception, Naqib group so far has proven itself to be an extraordinary dynamic and progressive business enterprise, positioning itself as one of the leading private groups of companies in Bangladesh. The company's core value is all about time befitting thinking, creativity, and innovation, which are the most important foundation on which the group has been established. The lift and elevator business was our first concern, and today it remains one of our core businesses. Every day thousands of our people use our elevator and escalator, and we strictly take our responsibility to ensure absolute safety for our progress. We constantly invest in improving our technology and developing new and innovative products to ensure that we uphold our company's values. We have built a company in which all employees interact on the basis of responsibility and autonomy via goals and devotion to Naqib Group. We are aware that we will need to make long strides and make a remarkable effort to fulfill our vision. The quality of our generator also is of the highest standard. Our aim is to provide our valued clients peace of mind by providing optimum solutions to improve the power situation by supplying them with a European standard generator at a competitive price, delivered as a significantly reduced period, and ensuring minimum downtime through instant service and spare support. We are always ready to walk the extra mile to ensure customer satisfaction. We hope all of you will continue to share our success.
